The Hotline

Welcome Fall 2024 New Members

On August 3, 2024, the JLI welcomed 29 new members with a Super Saturday kickoff event. New Members were able to get to know their mentors and each other as well as learn about the workings of the Junior League of Indianapolis. The day long event is part of a redesigned New Member program that will focus on experiential learning rather than informational sessions. The Super Saturday event was designed by the Association of Junior Leagues International who is encouraging leagues to standardize their curriculum. For the rest of their program, New Members will participate in four experiential sessions, Fundraising, Volunteer, Collaboration and Training aimed at getting a truer JLI experience. Welcome new members!

President's Message

"The heart of leadership is connection."
-Brené Brown

Dear Members,

Whenever I see photos from the earliest days of the Junior League of Indianapolis' existence, my first thought is usually about how much has changed for women in the last 102 years.

Recently, though, I've begun to think the 2020s may turn out to be as pivotal in the lives of U.S. women as the 1920s were. In 1920, 7% of U.S. women had a bachelor's degree, and 50 years later, in 1970, that number had grown to just 8%. But by 2021, 39% of U.S. women had a bachelor's degree - compared to 37% of men - and 56% of U.S. college students were women. In 2022, women accounted for 55.75% of first-year law students and 56.5% of medical students in America. And this summer, our country witnessed the second nomination of a woman as a presidential candidate in less than a decade.

While the impact of these trends is not yet clear, one thing is certain: at home, in the classroom, in the community, and in corporate boardrooms, women are increasingly asserting ourselves as leaders. Recognizing that reality, I believe, points to an additional certainty: the Junior League of Indianapolis is as vitally important now as it has ever been.

Now more than ever, women need the support of an organization that understands it is possible to prioritize developing ourselves as leaders and as community servants and volunteers at the same time. Now more than ever, women need a connection with other women who know that leadership and service are not mutually exclusive, who embrace volunteerism not as an activity but as a way of life. Now more than ever, our communities and our country are ready to share the Junior League of Indianapolis' vision of women as capable and competent problem-solvers, difference-makers, and leaders.

The question we must ask ourselves is, are we as prepared to share that vision as others are to receive it?

When she established the Junior League, founder Mary Harriman intentionally created an organization that depended upon women inviting other women to serve in settings and roles previously unfamiliar to them. Likewise, the future of the Junior League of Indianapolis and our ability to share our vision of women in service and leadership also hinges on our willingness to invite other women to join us.

In August, we were thrilled to welcome a class of 29 amazing new members to our organization. In an age of so much disconnection, when even the U.S. Surgeon General is issuing warnings about the health risks of loneliness, perhaps one of the best gifts we can give the women in our lives is an invitation to connect with a group of dedicated leaders and community servants known as the Junior League of Indianapolis.

I am deeply honored to have the privilege of serving as President of the Junior League of Indianapolis this year, and I look forward to serving the community alongside each of you. I am forever grateful to my former boss who invited me to join this remarkable organization and for the mentors and friends I have gained as a member. In honor of all the women over the past 102 years who opened doors for those of us who came behind, let us continue to open the doors of the Junior League of Indianapolis to all women in our community who share our mission and invite them in.

Yours in service,

Amber Finley
President, 2024-25

Celebrating a Year of Service, Empowerment, and Connection

Elizabeth Scott, 2023-24 JLI President

During the 2023-2024 league year, the league continued to adapt to the changing landscape of community service and social impact. Our General Membership Meetings (GMMs) throughout the year included training, insightful talks, and enjoyable activities. We covered the suffrage movement and our members' impact in the community, honed advocacy and financial skills, and organized fun events like a summer cookout and a "Galentine's Day" flower bar event. Our training committee also organized empowering workshops and seminars for our members.

Our third annual Women's Leadership Summit held this winter, was a testament to the League's unwavering commitment to leadership development. The theme, 'Being Our Own Barbie,' resonated with the numerous women we've helped gain the confidence and skills needed to lead effectively.

The Junior League has been involved in various community service projects this year, focusing on foster youth and kinship care. Our volunteers have dedicated thousands of hours to making a tangible difference. Our community council launched the inaugural trunk-or-treat event to serve those in foster and kinship care.

The Junior League has been actively fundraising to support our mission. This year, we hosted the 53rd Annual Holiday Mart, and we are excited to bring a fresh version in 2024. We also launched "Bid for a Cause," a successful virtual silent auction fundraiser.

In December, the League awarded a total of $50,000 in grants to Firefly Children and Family Alliance, Harmony in Horses, Ausome Indy, and Brightlane Learning. In the spring, $25,000 in Trust Fund Grants was distributed to ArtMix, Best Buddies, Damar Services, A Kid Again Inc. (Indiana Chapter), and Visually Impaired Preschool Services (VIPS). Additionally, grants from the Anne Collett Hensley Fund and the Emily Kathryn Gilroy Memorial Fund supported Riley Children's Hospital.

The League is focused on growth and sustainability. Moving our headquarters to a co-working space has cut our operational expenses significantly. The Indiana Historical Society is now maintaining our archives, elevating our recognition in the Indianapolis community. The Board of Directors has drafted a new three-year strategic plan that emphasizes fund development, community impact, and membership diversity.

Celebrating 25 years of The Presidents Roundtable

During the May 2024 Annual Dinner GMM, attendees heard from Julie Davis, former JLI President and co-founder of the Presidents Round Table (PRT). On April 12, 2000, the inaugural meeting of PRT made history. Founded in January 2000 by Junior League of Indianapolis leaders Julie Davis and Shannon Rezek, PRT started with 18 volunteer-focused nonprofits from Central Indiana, uniting to establish a diverse group of women's organizations. Their aim was to share information, exchange ideas, enhance leadership skills through cutting-edge training, and cultivate collaborations..

When asked about PRT's history of engagement and future role in our community, JLI sustainer Julie Davis said, "PRT is stronger than ever and continues to have much success. The President's Roundtable has provided leadership training to 325 presidents from 25 organizations, raising over $85 million for Indianapolis and Central Indiana women in our community." Continuing this incredible work in 2023-24, JLI collaborated with 16 local organizations to participate in networking and leadership opportunities, leverage participating organizations as a sounding board, and gather strategic insights and opinions. Over the years, PRT has supported numerous local volunteer initiatives, including participating as a partner in the Sister-to-Sister National Women's Heart Health screenings, serving on the Governor's Residence Steering Committee, participating in the Mayor's Pack the Pantries food drive initiative, and serving in an ongoing capacity as co-hosts and judges of the Mayor's Community Service Awards. The organization has also been recognized as a model program for collaborations, winning the 2006 Association of Junior Leagues International's Award for Collaboration, which is awarded for innovative and effective collaborations and community partnerships. Annual Women’s Leadership Summit

We are excited to announce that our last Women’s Leadership Summit was such a tremendous success that we are opening attendance to the entire Indy community! What began in 2022 as an exclusive event for our members has evolved into an inspiring and empowering experience that we want both JLI members and non-members to partake.

Join us in Spring 2025 for a series of insightful sessions, networking opportunities, and the chance to connect with leaders and innovators across various fields. This is your opportunity to gain valuable knowledge, share your ideas, and become an integral part of a thriving community.

More information on how you can participate in our next Leadership Summit will be shared later this fall. We are excited to continue to grow together!

If you know of any businesses or individuals who might be interested in supporting us as an event sponsor, recommendations for speakers, or ideas to help JLI grow the Leadership Summit, please email leadershipsummit@jlin Indy.org.

Brandi Bruemmer

Current JLI placement: Sponsorship Committee-Chair and Membership Committee-Member
Hometown: Fort Wayne, IN aka Fort Fun
Reason for joining JLI: I was looking for volunteer opportunities during the pandemic. I originally found the league in El Paso, TX but was unable to join their provisional class. I was excited to join when I moved back to Indianapolis as an opportunity to explore different parts of the city and make women friends.
Your job: Currently unemployed but looking and open to a lot of options. I just graduated with a Masters of Public Affairs: Non-Profit Management and a Masters of International Affairs: Human Rights, Law and Security
Pets: None at the moment. I am allergic to cats and dogs.
Favorite restaurant: Tough question but a solid go to for me is Maialina's Italian Kitchen in Fountain Square
Coffee order: 16oz Iced Americano Black
Three things you never leave home without: Headphones, Chapstick and Cell phone
What book are you currently reading: The Cat Who Saved Books by Sosuke Natsukawa
Favorite way to spend your weekend: I have worked in the service industry for years so usually I am working on the weekend or doing something JLI related. However, the ideal weekend for me would include seeing live music, day drinking, and eating good food with 2-5 friends.

Kristen Whitmire

Hometown: Stone Mountain, GA
Current JLI placement: Fund Development, Mini Fund Committee
Reason for joining JLI: Volunteering and community leadership have always been mechanisms to learn about the needs of my community, and the spirit of those who share it with me.
Your job: Manager of Commercial Development, Clinical Trials, at Walgreens Boots Alliance.
Pets: My husband, Jon, and I have two Siamese cats, Chicken Salad and Philip Morris.
Favorite restaurant: Capri. Special mention to Petite Chou and Mama Carolla's.
Coffee order: I don't drink coffee!
Three things you never leave home without: Phone, wallet, and a La Croix.
What book are you currently reading: While Morts Sleep.
Favorite way to spend your weekend: I love exploring small towns in Indiana. In the summer especially, you'll find me hiking in a State Park or antique shopping off one of Indiana's many historical main streets.

Sustainer News

Sustainer Council

The 2023 - 2024 league year was the second year for the relatively new Sustainer Council, which was formed to help mentor and advise our active members and leadership, and also keep our sustaining members more engaged! Many thanks to Nichole McCulloch and Jayme Short-DeLeon for chairing the council and to the following members for their participation and hard work: Joan Blackwell and Cece Gerdenich as immediate past chairs, Julie Davis, Kristy Garcia, Jan Keefer, Mary Leuders, Kelly Merritt, Amy Miller, Jennifer Mitchell, Tany Overforf, Julie Rowlas, Michelle Study-Campbell, and Tiffani Taylor.

Social Activities

One of the great things about being a Sustainer is the time spent reconnecting with friends and sharing memories of time spent as an active member. In the 2023 - 2024 league year, the Sustainers were toasted at the Holiday Mart with a Sustainer Brunch, and we were treated not only to brunch but also an opportunity to hear from some of our community partners, Kids' Voice and Ausome Indy, and to enjoy the shopping at the Holiday Mart! Sustainers also enjoyed holiday cocktails and small bites in December at the Sustainer Holiday Social at Meridian Hills Country Club where we again enjoyed the opportunity to hear from community partners. Finally, Sustainers gathered at a Spring Social on June 13th at the Eagle Creek Sailing Club.

Service

In the 2023 - 2024 league year, the Sustainer Council members have been busy mentoring many active members who serve on the JLI leadership team and developing a Sustainer Newsletter. The newsletter was developed to keep everyone informed of JLI news and activities, as well as to share updates on our fellow sustaining members. Sustainers also worked to honor the lives and legacies of those members who we lost in the past year.

Additionally, sustainers supported the JLI office move, working with Secretary Laura Peterson to close the office at Woodfield Crossing, catalog our assets, and participate in the moving sale. Sustainers also assisted with relocating our archives to the Indiana Historical Society (IHS). JLI Archivist, Kara Rameswaram, later coordinated a tour of the storage facility at the IHS to show JLI members and Sustainers how the IHS is preserving our treasured archives. The Sustainers also visited and held one of their council meetings at our new meeting space.

The 53rd Annual JLI Holiday Mart

The 53rd Annual Junior League of Indianapolis Holiday Mart returns to the Indiana State Fairgrounds this November!

Guests will be treated to 2 days of premier shopping experiences. We're excited to be hosting this year's Holiday Mart in a new location at the Fairgrounds, in the Agriculture Horticulture building.

We are actively seeking prospective merchants and would love the League's support with identifying businesses who may be a good fit. If you have suggestions, please direct them to our website or you can contact Mari Swayne, our Merchants Chair, at hmmERCHANTS@jLIndy.org with information about the business and their contact information so we can reach out.

As we approach November, please help us promote our event by following the Holiday Mart Facebook and Instagram accounts and sharing our posts.

Community Assistance and Trust Fund Grants

The Grants Council was thrilled to award a total of $75,000 in funding to local 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations in the 2023-2024 League Year.

In Fall 2023 , the Council was focused on our Community Assistance Grants (CAG), which are given annually to organizations that meet community needs in our focus area, currently programs and projects that support children in foster and kinship care. We received 11 total CAG applications and conducted 6 virtual site visits before selecting 4 organizations to receive funding. Two organizations, Firefly and Harmony in Horses, were selected as finalists to present to members at our December GMM. After a member vote and board approval, grant awards were given to:

- Firefly Children & Family Alliance - $20,000
- Harmony IN Horses - $15,000
- Ausome Indy - $8,500
- Brightlane Learning - $6,500

In Spring 2024, the Council shifted to our Trust Fund Grants, which are given annually to organizations that serve children with mental or physical disabilities in Marion County. We received 12 applications and after careful discussion by the Council and board approval, grant awards were given to the following organizations:

- ArtMix - $5,000
- Best Buddies - $5,000
- Damar Services - $5,000
- A Kid Again (Indiana Chapter) - $5,000
- Visually Impaired Preschool Services (VIPS) - $5,000
- Riley Hospital for Children - $2,600 from the Anne Collett Hensley Fund
- Riley Hospital for Children - $870 from the Emily Kathryn Gilroy Memorial Fund

The Grants Council is grateful for the work of so many wonderful nonprofit organizations in our community and looks forward to learning about the impact of JLI funding on our grant recipients.

Trunk or Treat returns October 20th

Last year, our sensory-friendly Trunk or Treat featured 15 creatively decorated trunks and welcomed over 400 kids from Ausome Indy and the Garfield Park community. With generous sponsorship from our local Meijer stores, we filled the evening with sweet treats along with sensory goodie bags courtesy of Ausome Indy. This year, we're excited to expand our outreach and collaborate with other foster and kinship care organizations to ensure a welcoming and inclusive environment for all children. Come celebrate with us on Sunday, October 20 from 2-4pm at Garfield Park and experience a fun, safe, and sensory-friendly Halloween adventure!

2023-24 Council Recap

The Community Council had a wonderful year of exploration and new growth. We started the 2023-24 league year with our two Community Impact Partners, Ausome Indy and Kids' Voice of Indiana, and maintained that relationship throughout the league year.

Organically, we also continued to work with the Indiana Diaper Bank and Gleaners Food Bank throughout the year. All the services provided by these four organizations directly assist those in foster and kinship care, many of which keep children out of foster care and in kinship care instead.

Our goal was to provide at least two volunteer events per month, and we will average 3.5 event opportunities per month by the end of the year. We are happy to say all our volunteer events have been well attended and are providing a fulfilling experience for our members and partner organizations.

We hope to continue to grow our formal partnerships in the 2024-25 league year as well as focus on developing more signature projects like our Trunk or Treat Event for our partners to attend. Our 2023-24 chairs, Lydia Cayton and Katie Flegenheimer, were pivotal to the continued success of the Community Council with their hard work and relentless passion for giving back to our community.

The JLI Office Has a New Home

Laura Peterson, Secretary

January 1, 2024, found the Junior League of Indianapolis in a new space! The league has rented an office in the Industrious coworking space, located within the historic Stutz Building in downtown Indianapolis. The new space offers spots for committee meetings, retreats, and quick access to event supplies.

The decision to relocate our office was made after two years of research and exploration. In 2022, JLI leaders identified three key insights that required action:

1. Our existing office lease was expiring at Woodfield Crossing.
2. If we stayed at Woodfield, our rent would increase.
3. JLI members had become equally as effective when working in a hybrid manner during COVID, so the existing space at Woodfield was therefore more space than we needed.

With these insights in mind, JLI leadership created an ad hoc committee with the mission to explore all available options, including whether we should stay at Woodfield, explore coworking, buy a new building or find another opportunity elsewhere. At the recommendation of the ad hoc committee, we chose to relocate to Industrious because of its low cost, incredible amenities, proximity to the community we serve, and its central location for our members.

As an added bonus, by becoming a member of Industrious, the JLI can also access the Industrious locations in Carmel and on Mass Ave.

The official move from Woodfield Crossing began in Fall 2023 when we began to assess the furniture, memorabilia, and supplies we would need in our new space. Once we understood our needs, we worked to sell extra items and ensured all funds raised were donated to the JLI's Annual Fund. The big move happened a few days before Christmas and went smoothly.

One of the most exciting parts of our office relocation was the transfer of the JLI's archives to the Indiana Historical Society. Our members helped catalog, organize, and prepare the JLI archives for safe storage at this museum. We appreciate everyone who volunteered their time to help with the archives review and relocation project, and we owe a special thanks to Kara Rameswaram for her work to spearhead this major initiative.

Notably, the new office space did not have enough room to rehang the President's Wall plaques. To ensure this treasured part of our history made the move, we created a composite to honor the JLI leaders who have come before us. This will be printed and hung in the 2024-2025 league year.

We also made sure to keep and rehang any artwork that spoke to the history of the league. The remainder of the artwork is being appraised so the league can determine the next steps.

At this point, we have been in our new JLI office space for over half a year, and we are working to decorate and reacclimate. While we haven't been in the new space for long, we know it will feel like home in no time. Here's the information for our new headquarters. We hope to host you in our new office sometime soon!

- Address: 1060 North Capitol Ave, Suite 3-101, Indianapolis, IN 46204
- Phone Number: 317-925-4600
- Access: A lock box is located outside the office with a key.
- Parking: There is street parking and a parking lot across the street. All parking is paid.
- Industrious is a coworking space, and its main entrance faces North Capitol Ave. The space is open to the public for entry during business hours. After-hours access is available to JLI members via a code. Please connect with the league office or a member of the JLI Board or Management Council to plan a visit.
