Dear Members

I hope that you are enjoying the sunshine and having some fun with those closest to you. As the warm summer months are passing by, the devoted members of the Junior League have been busy! The new fiscal year officially kicked off on June 1st, and our members transitioned into new roles and quickly got to work.

A new year for the League brings us a refreshed focus. Our mission of promoting voluntarism, developing the potential of women, and improving our community will always be the heart of what we do as an organization, but how we define what that looks like changes each year. For example, this year's Holiday Mart is sure to delight all ages as we add a few more events to enhance your shopping experience. As we move into our 97th year of service to the Indianapolis community we will focus on celebrating the individual efforts of each member, the success of what those members achieve when they come together and will look forward to seeing the impact we will make with our community projects, community assistance grants, and the fundraisers it takes to make it all possible. We will continue our commitment to diversity and inclusion in the League as we welcome all women who value our Mission. We will continue to analyze our governance and management structure, grow our State Public Affairs Committee (SPAC) efforts, pilot a new fundraiser, bring on a new community partner and much more. Join me as we go ALL IN again this year! You don't want to miss out on the many options to get what you want out of the League. ■

Current Placement:

Membership Outreach: Chair

My job:

Financial planner

My Family:

My parents and older brother live in Michigan.

My fiancé, Dalton, and I live in Broad Ripple and his mom and two brothers just moved to Carmel from Louisville.

Pets:

Currently in the process of convincing my fiancé that we need a puppy! My family dog was a King Charles Cavalier so I'm partial to them!

Hometown:

Rochester Hills, Michigan

Favorite Indianapolis Restaurant:

Sakura for sushi; Northside Social for sentimental reasons

Favorite Placement:

I was on Around the Community as a Provisional last year, which was beneficial in allowing me to see all the variety of organizations around Indianapolis that we can touch and make an impact through tasks that are best tackled in groups the size of Junior League.

Personal Reason for Joining JLI:

I've found that JLI is the most effective way to give back. It is well known around Indy, has the man-power, and we can thoughtfully vet through and vote on who has the greatest need and who we can benefit the most through our organization. I was finding myself volunteering inconsistently and was not connected to any one cause. The tipping point to ultimately joining after a couple of years came from my now best friend who literally texted me the link one day to sign up.

Favorite quote:

You can do anything or be anyone, but it's going to be really * hard!
You live and you learn. ■

Spotlight: Lauren Sorrell

Current placement:

Tutors in Action

My job:

I work at a law firm, Krieg DeVault, where I practice in the areas of corporate and commercial litigation and creditors' rights.

My Family:

My husband and I met in law school and live in the Canterbury neighborhood of Indianapolis.

Pets:

We have a sweet little black cat, Oliver.

Hometown:

I feel like I have a few! I was born in Portland (Maine), grew up in Portland (Oregon), and went to high school here in Indy (Brebeuf). My parents live in Zionsville now.

Favorite Indianapolis Restaurant:

It's nearly impossible to choose! Some current favorites are Diavola, Canal Bistro, and Garden Table. And I love going to the City Market for lunch.

Favorite Placement:

I've enjoyed each one for different reasons - Membership Outreach Committee was a lot of fun because I met so many great women, and I also really love working with the kids at School on Wheels.

Personal Reason for Joining JLI:

I was doing scattered volunteer work, but wanted something more streamlined, and to be able to meet other young women with the same goals.

Favorite quote:

Again, too hard to choose! But for now, a couple: "A party without cake is just a meeting." (Julia Child) and "A good place to be happy is here. A good time to be happy is now." (Unknown) ■

Leadership Academy 2018

By: Michelle Study-Campbell, Past President

The JLI Leadership Academy just wrapped up it's second full year! In our second year of offering the Leadership Academy we had 18 women complete the course, which included monthly workshops and lectures on key leadership and community topics including, preparing and leading meetings, JLI History and Community Impact, the three duties of care of nonprofit board members, public speaking training and more. The Leadership Academy is designed to build the skills and confidence of our members so that they are ready for leadership not only in JLI but throughout our community.

In addition to the monthly workshops, this year we added a group project. With four special projects to choose from, our class split into four distinct groups:

Marketing – Working on a marketing plan for 2019 Around the Community/ Around the Clock.

Fundraising – Creating a new mini fundraiser for JLI- Save the Date for September 11th for Trivia Night at The District Tap.

Membership – Leading the 2nd Annual Woman of the Year award

Community – Evaluation and making recommendations for the Do In A Day (DIAD) initiative.

Each group was paired with a JLI Board Member to assist with research and guiding the group through the expected outcomes of the project. In June each group completed their project by presenting their results to their cohorts in the Leadership Academy and the JLI Board of Directors. Some of the results and recommendations included:

- Change name of Woman of the Year to HEROic Award, streamline the nomination process and increase marketing of the award.
- DIAD – Change name to Community Impact Project to better reflect the work/intent, align projects with impact goals, communicate partnerships in a broader way.
- DIAD – Create metrics for projects and share the impact throughout the year.
- Around the Community – Use infographics to tell the impact of our community service blitz.

This is just a sampling of the great ideas innovative recommendations that the workgroups have proposed. Congrats to the members of the JLI Leadership Academy, we can't wait to see what you do next in the League.

Year three for the Leadership Academy kicks off in August, once again any JLI member may "audit" a session to learn more about the Leadership Academy and see if this is something that you would like to participate in 2019-2020. Flex credit is given for attending a session, please sign up via Digital Cheetah. ■

Sunsetting the SFE Food Pantry

By: Elizabeth Kinder, Arts for Learning Chair

On June 9, the Junior League of Indianapolis concluded its four-year volunteer commitment to serve food-insecure Indianapolis children and families in need. Since 2014, League members partnered with Gleaner's Food Bank of Indiana and the staff and volunteers of the Stephen Foster Elementary school to provide a monthly shipment of fresh and non-perishable items to the "Bulldog" pantry.

Operating from the near-west side school on most Saturdays in those four years, including the summer months, the pantry served an average of 40 unique families each month. Families averaged 5 members, many children under the age of 18. Monthly, the League was responsible for placing food orders through Gleaner's, most of it given away by the time of the next month's order. In its four years, the pantry distributed over 34 tons of food (nearly 70,000 pounds) to families in need.

"The partnership with the [Junior] League was tremendous, and we will surely miss that," wrote John Nieman, director of Gleaner's food programs. "Together we made a big difference for the families in that area. So many kids were able to concentrate on studies, instead of their hunger because of your support. I just wanted to make sure that you and the [team] made a HUGE difference. We will miss you, but we will continue to work to feed those in the community as you focus on a new and different challenge."

While the family size determined the amount of items families can take from pantry shelves, most families walked or drove home with at least 3 large shopping bags filled with staple items like rice, canned vegetables, and peanut butter along with fresh fruits, vegetables, and frozen meat, when available. A conscious effort was consistently made to offer nutritious items and those could be paired to round out full meals, including pasta with sauce and pancake mix with syrup. The food pantry offered an opportunity for League members to connect directly with children and their families. The 15 committee members served over 400 collective hours at the pantry from July 2017-June 2018.

In addition to the Food Pantry committee, the Kids in the Kitchen committee hosted several events throughout the last 4 years to teach children and their families about making nutritious snacks and meals. ■

What's with the name change?

By: Maddie Kellner, Community Vice President

The JLI has made an official name change to the committee previously known as Do in a Day (DIAD). Starting June 1st, this committee will be called Community Impact Project. So, what's with the change?

Members of the Leadership Academy were tasked with assessing the impact that the Do in a Day committee had and how to make operational improvements to increase the impact and the visibility in the Indianapolis community.

They developed a three-step approach:

1. Change the name to reflect the work we're doing
2. Develop metrics to see how we align with the JLI's mission; this includes generating feedback from members and partners

3. Digitize the application so organizations can be captured in Digital Cheetah

All these changes are steps in the right direction for operational efficiency. These members did a fantastic job analyzing the pain points and taking all feedback in to account. We're excited to see these changes in action this year and reevaluate in May 2019.

If you have any suggestions or feedback for this committee, or others, please reach out to the current chair or VP. Your opinion counts, and these ladies proved that working together can make a difference. ■

Junior League of Indianapolis announces Rachel McIntosh as HERoic Award recipient

McIntosh will donate award money to nonprofit that helps trafficking survivors

The Junior League of Indianapolis (JLI) named Rachel McIntosh as the second annual recipient of its HERoic Award. The award recognizes an outstanding woman who has made a significant impact in the Indianapolis community.

"Rachel embodies the JLI values of promoting voluntarism, developing the potential of women and being a catalyst for lasting change in the lives of children and their families," said JLI president Stacy Payne Miller. "We are thrilled to celebrate her with the HERoic Award."

McIntosh is principal of Cross Sector Convergence, a consulting firm that specializes in managing and facilitating community change initiatives. She has more than 20 years of experience working on comprehensive community economic development projects, including grants, socially conscious investments and technical assistance engagements.

Previously, she served as vice president and community development advisor for PNC Bank and senior program officer for Local Initiatives Support Corporation.

McIntosh has a master's degree in philanthropic studies from the Indiana University Lilly Family School of Philanthropy and a master's degree in public affairs from the Indiana University School of Public and Environmental Affairs.

"The Junior League and I share a passion for empowering women and improving our community," said McIntosh. "I am honored to be recognized by an organization that helps equip women with volunteer and leadership skills necessary to promote the well-being of our city."

As part of the award, McIntosh selected a central Indiana nonprofit to receive a $5,000 grant from JLI. She chose Ascent 121, which provides advocacy and recovery services for teen survivors of trafficking.

The JLI recognized McIntosh at its 96th Anniversary Celebration on June 9. To learn more about the HERoic Award, visit <https://www.jlindy.org/?nd=WOTY>. ■
