Junior League of Indianapolis announces new Board of Directors
President Stephanie Flittner continues to lead organization and Elizabeth Scott will serve as President-Elect

INDIANAPOLIS – The Junior League of Indianapolis (JLI) announced its 2022-23 Board of Directors and Management Council. The team of women, headed by President Stephanie Flittner, will lead JLI as it embarks on its next century of community service.

JLI's Board of Directors is composed of active members who have contributed hundreds of volunteer hours and have dedicated themselves to JLI and giving back to the Indianapolis community. They are responsible for governance and management of JLI, an all-volunteer organization with a mission to promote voluntarism, develop the potential of women and improve the community through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers.

Flittner, who works as Risk Manager and Assistant General Counsel for Shiel Sexton, will serve the second year of her two-year term as president. Elizabeth Scott will serve as the organization's President-Elect.

JLI commemorated its centennial year in 2021-22 with a slate of activities honoring its past, celebrating the present and securing its future. Since 2000, JLI has contributed more than $4.9 million to area nonprofits. The organization remains committed to being a catalyst for lasting change in the lives of children and their families in the Indianapolis community.

Additional Board members are:

- Elizabeth Kinder – Executive Vice President
- Amanda Gallagher – Secretary
- Shannon McGeorge – Treasurer
- Katie Lenz – Nominating Chair
- Kim Bugg, Katasha S. Butler, Amber Finley, Lindsay McGuire, Michele Peterson – Directors at Large
